CONSERVATION CONSULTANTS, INC. NAMES NEW DIRECTOR OF BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

Pittsburgh, PA— Jonathan Cox has been appointed to the new position of Director of Business Development at Conservation Consultants, Inc. (CCI), announced Ann Gerace, the organization’s Executive Director. Cox will help CCI define, evaluate, and develop new opportunities for the organization to carry out its mission of promoting energy efficiency and renewable energy in homes and other buildings. “This is a very exciting time for CCI and others who are working to help homeowners and small businesses cut their energy costs, while also reducing pollution and our dependence on foreign suppliers of fuel,” said Gerace. “We are extremely pleased to have Jonathan focusing on how CCI can take advantage of both new funding and the explosion of interest in a greener, more sustainable world.”

Prior to joining the CCI staff, Cox served as Director of the East End Partnership of Pittsburgh, a collaboration between four community development corporations in the city’s East End. Before that, Cox worked for the Pittsburgh Downtown Partnership as Vice President of Operations. He has also worked in the museum field in Philadelphia, Harrisburg, and Hershey. Cox is a graduate of Leadership Pittsburgh and serves on the Allegheny Regional Asset District Advisory Board. He lives in Squirrel Hill with his wife and two daughters.
